As the campaign of 1884 approaches, certain democratic politicians are starting the report that General Hancock's health is failing.

Seven months of winter is coming, but what of that when we remember that there will be seven months of rest to the base ball club.

Mr. Mil's second string to his bow does not seem to be a paying one. His lectures while swinging around the dramatic circle, do not give much hope if Janesville furnishes an indication.

Governor Butler doesn't understand the temper of the people of Massachusetts this fall. When he reckons on a personal victory this fall he counts chickens that will never be hatched.

A physician of some reputation makes the statement that too thick underclothing causes the redness of the nose. This will afford some satisfaction to those who carry red noses, but do not wear thick underclothing.

Judge Thurman has at the eleventh hour entered the campaign for the democracy in Ohio. He got in the ranks just in time to entitle him to a place in the procession when the democratic funeral takes place next week.

Henry Villard is a little short of money. A report says that he went to Canada the other day and wanted to borrow fifteen million to help the Northern Pacific out of a tight place. Fifteen millions wouldn't reduce Gould's exchequer very much.

Mrs. J. L. Case is fortunate. She got another kiss from her husband on Saturday because Jay-Eye-See beat St. Julian. If Mrs. Case is to receive a conjugal kiss every time Jay-Eye-See wins a race, she will get more of them than the average married woman.

We learn through the Milwaukee Sunday Telegraph that Judge George Clementson refused a divorce in Grant county, in a case where the husband, one Lowry, who asked for it, charged that his wife had threatened to poison him if he went to a certain neighbor's house; that she had accused him of marital infidelity, and that she had "altogether too much tongue." Judge Clementson was apparently of opinion that Mr. Lowry needed something like the domestic discipline of which he complained.

That little colt—Jay-Eye-See—which flies around a race course like a cyclone on a prairie, has won another race, this time beating St. Julian at Fleetwood Park, New York, winning three successive heats and getting the purse of $5,000. It was one of the most exciting races that ever took place in this country. General Grant, Robert Bonner and W. H. Vanderbilt were among the thousands who cheered the triumph of Jay-Eye-See. The next thing this little animal will do will be to beat Mand S. Three-quarters of a second will do the business, and make Jay-Eye-See the most valuable trotter in this country.

It appears from the last decennial census that the number of deaths from accident in the United States was 35,932. Of this number only 2,349 were killed on railways, while 2,259 were killed by the accidental discharges of guns, 3,320 were drowned, and 2,517 committed suicide. Since the decennial census was taken the number of suicides has largely increased. They have already exceeded the number of persons killed on railways, and have doubled the number of murders. In some respects this shows an alarming condition of affairs. When 2,517 persons would rather sleep the death that knows no waking, that bears the ills of this life, there must be a serious spreading of that mental disease which not only drives the victim to insanity, but which makes them court death and despise life.

They have a Kate Kane in Cincinnati, (When Maggie Gallagher was fined $50 for drunkenness, she hurled an inkstand at the judge's head. But it didn't hit the judge, and here is the balance of the story: "The inkstand went through a window, the ink splashing over a lady's elegant silk dress and totally ruining it. The lady, in trying to shake the ink from her raiment, frightened a team of spirited horses, that ran away with a carriage containing two ladies and a child, upsetting a fruit stand and throwing the ladies into a butcher cart, while the child was fastened in a bunch of telephone wires about ten feet above the sidewalk. The team could not be stopped, and continued on their flight, finally plunging through the plate-glass windows of a china shop. They ran through the entire length of the store, spreading destruction and devastation on every hand; ran out of the back door, leaped into the canal, and were drowned." All this mischief was done because the judge wouldn't let the inkstand hit his head.

The Sunday Telegraph is beginning to discuss the congressional question pretty early in the season, and has this to say in regard to the first district: "In the first district there is scarcely a doubt that L. B. Caswell, who represented the old 2nd district for four terms, commencing in 1875, will be the republican candidate. He resides in Jefferson county, formerly in the 2nd district, but now a part of the first, and is nominated there can be no doubt of his election. Rock county will hardly present a candidate next year. However acceptable T. D. Weeks, of Whitewater, or Dr. Reynolds, of Geneva, might be as candidates, local fights will defeat their nomination. Racine and Kenosha will not unite to present a lake shore candidate, which leaves Caswell with scarcely a competitor, and his unanimous nomination is now anticipated. Mr. Caswell has taken up the fight for Gen. Harnden, and has fully represented the case to President Arthur. The order consolidating the two western districts has been suspended by the president, on Mr. Caswell's representations, reinforced by editorials from the Sunday Telegraph, the petition of Methodist clergymen, and other documents, and he was recognized as the representative of the republican interests in this part of the state in the matter."

TRAIN ROBBERIES POSTED.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 1.—The most intense excitement prevails here over the attempted robbery of the regular east-bound express train on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway at Coolidge, Kan., shortly after two o'clock Saturday morning. The robbery was the work of three men, who made an attack upon the train just as it was about to put out from the station. Conductor Greeley had called out "all aboard," when two men jumped upon the engine with drawn revolvers and ordered the engineer, John R. Hutton, to pull out, instead of doing this he reversed the engine, when one of the men shot him through the heart, killing him instantly. At the same time the second robber shot George Fadden, the fireman, through the back, and he fell from the cab into the gutter. Almost exactly the same time the third member of the gang jumped into the express-car and fired point blank at the express messenger, who was reclining partially asleep on a bed of blankets spread out upon his safe. Fortunately the bullet went wide of its mark, and Patterson sprang to his feet and returned the fire, finally succeeding in driving the robbers from the train. The passengers came to the assistance of the train-men, but, owing to the darkness, the robbers succeeded in making their escape, empty-handed, however.

The most intense excitement prevailed among the passengers when the robbery became known throughout the train, and all the express-men were sent to Las Animas, Dodge City, and other points for assistance, while the dead engineer and wounded fireman were taken into the sleeping-car and properly cared for. A special train left Dodge City at once for the scene with a posse of armed men under charge of the Marshal, and at a late hour three men, named Looney, Chambers and Deau were captured, who are thought to be the attempted train-robbers. They were taken to Dodge City by special train, under a heavy guard, and have been placed in jail, where the excitement there is so intense that the men will probably be removed to some other point during the night. In the express safe at the time of the attempted robbery was between $40,000 and $50,000, and but for the fight made by Patterson the robbers would probably have made a big haul, as he had the man from his car the men in the engine had things their own way.

The plucky express messenger tells the following story: "When the train stopped at Coolidge, I put out some railroad mail, and when I had finished, there being no express to put off and no further work for me to do, I laid down on my box just in front of the side door, on the side of the car next to the depot. After lying down for a few minutes I dropped off into a doze. The pistol lay where I could easily lay hands upon it. It was about time for the train to start, when I heard the whistles. 'Come out,' was the first I heard, and I afterwards learned that the remark was made by Conductor Greeley to a man whom he noticed getting into the car. When I awoke I naturally glanced down the car, and I saw standing within a few feet of me a man with a pistol in his hand. I was lying with my head toward the front end of the car, and the man was standing near my feet. I did not say a word. In fact, I did not have time to speak before he covered me with the revolver and fired. The bullet went over my head, and I could feel the fire burning over my head. The bullet then fired shot out of the doorway at the conductor. Fortunately, I was completely self-possessed, and when he fired I realized that a train-robbery was going on. With the hope of making the robber believe that he had killed me, I unclasped my hands which were folded on my bosom, and allowed them to fall at my side. My right hand fell on the muzzle of my revolver, and realizing that it would never do to allow the robber to see that I was about to defend myself, I worked my hand slowly into position until I had hold of the pistol with my hand on the trigger. The robber did not notice this maneuver, because it was quite dark in the part of the car where I lay. Meantime the man was working his way toward the rear of the car, evidently supposing that he had finished me, and intended to kill the baggage-man or any one else who got in his way. As soon as I saw him I fired, and the bullet struck him in the chest, and he fell into a sitting posture and died at the robber. I jumped up then and walked toward the man. He raised his revolver as if to shoot again, but it went off prematurely, the bullet hitting the roof of the car. When I shot at him a part of his body was being a store. I aimed at his abdomen, and I believe that my shot took effect. About this time I saw another man who proved to be the 'pal' of the first trying to climb in at the side door. No sooner had I fired, however, than he disappeared, and the man I shot at jumped out of the platform from the rear side door. That was the last I saw of the robbers. I calculated that they would come up to the front side door, and seizing some freight I barricaded the door so as to protect myself and the property which had been intrusted to my care."

The wounded fireman, Fadden, is lying at Coolidge, and is said to be improving. The remains of John R. Hutton, the engineer, who lost his life by his refusal to obey the robbers' orders to pull out the train, will be taken to Milwaukee, Wis., for burial. Mrs. Hutton, the deceased's widow, and Mr. McElvaine, a Santa Fe conductor, accompany the remains. The bereaved widow is completely prostrated by the terrible blow.

JAY-EYE-SEE WINS.

St. Julian Beaten in Three Straight Heats by the Racine Wonder—Very Fast Time Made.

New York, Oct. 1.—Ten thousand people gathered at Fleetwood Park Saturday afternoon to witness the racing race between Jay-Eye-See and St. Julian for a special purse of five thousand dollars. It was thought for a time that the race would have to be postponed, as owing to the recent heavy rain the track was very moist, and this accounts for the poor time made.

At half-past three o'clock the horses drew alongside of each other for the first heat. For the first quarter they staid right together, neither seeming to be able to get in the least ahead. On reaching the half-mile post, the same condition of affairs existed. Between that point and the three-quarter pole St. Julian led slightly, while down the home-stretch he was nose and nose with them until almost under the string, when St. Julian's driver deemed it necessary to use the whip, and did so, causing the horse to break, and Jay-Eye-See took the lead, leading St. Julian a length at the Point of Rocks, and keeping his lead to the finish—time, 2:15 1/4.

For the second heat, St. Julian led by half a length at the start, increasing his lead to a length at the turn. There was no change until the back stretch was reached, when Jay-Eye-See trotted to his leader's wheel, making a quick break near the half. From that point the little horse took the lead, leading St. Julian a length at the Point of Rocks, and keeping his lead to the finish—time, 2:15 1/4.

The third heat was virtually a walk over. St. Julian had the best of the start, but Jay-Eye-See caught him on the turn. At the quarter Jay led a length, increasing the distance to two lengths at the half. Coming up the hill St. Julian closed slightly, the black leading him a length at the third. St. Julian here wavered, but kept his lead. Entering the home-stretch Jay-Eye-See drew away and won in a jog by three lengths—time, 2:15.

The judges' stand was occupied by David Bonner, S. F. Knapp, Frank Ellis and George B. Alley, the former owner of Dexter.

BASE-BALL.

The Boston Club Wins the National League Championship—Standing of the Other Clubs—Toledo Certain to Carry Off the Northwestern Pennant.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The National League ball games on Saturday closed the season of that association for 1883, and resulted as follows: Chicago, 15; Philadelphia, 3; Boston, 6; Cleveland, 4; Buffalo, 7; Providence, 4; New York, 7; Detroit, 2.

The result of Saturday's play gives Boston the pennant by four games, Chicago being second, with one game in front of Providence. Cleveland and Buffalo have each one more game to play, while New York has two more, but these will in no way affect the championship.

The following is the schedule:

	Won.	Lost.
Boston	35	20
Chicago	30	25
Philadelphia	15	40
Buffalo	14	41
Providence	13	42
Cleveland	12	43
New York	11	44
Detroit	10	45
Philadelphia	9	46
Quincy	8	47

THE NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE.

It is almost a certainty that Toledo will carry off the championship of the Northwest, and that Saginaw will be second, while Peoria and Grand Rapids are having a hard fight for third place. The following is the schedule:

	Won.	Lost.
Toledo	35	20
Saginaw	30	25
Peoria	25	30
Grand Rapids	24	31
Springfield	23	32
Fort Wayne	22	33
Day City	21	34
Quincy	20	35

Great Success of the Illinois State Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The Thirty-first Annual Illinois State Fair closed Saturday, and may be well termed an unprecedented success, in fact the most successful in every way that has ever been held in the State, not only financially but as regards the quality of the exhibits. There has never been probably such an important exhibit of blooded draft horses in America as the one that was just closed at the Chicago Driving Park. The total amount of premiums will hardly reach $50,000, the expenses hardly $10,000, while the net receipts will be nearly $20,000 from exhibitors, and the privileges on the grounds sold for over $5,000. The gate receipts for the week will foot up between $10,000 and $20,000, against $18,000 the previous year at Peoria, and the entries were at least fifty per cent. greater. The attendance for the week was in the neighborhood of 150,000 persons, not including the 5,000 school children who were admitted free. The largest number of persons ever in attendance upon a State Fair in Illinois in one day, excepting the present week, was in Peoria in 1881, when the number of people on the big day was 28,000.

The "Nickel-Plate."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—Control of the "Nickel-Plate" Railroad which was supposed to have been acquired by the Vanderbilts through their purchase of $26,000,000 of stock is about to be contested by the holders of the first mortgage bonds in Pennsylvania and elsewhere. It is now said these bonds possess equal voting powers with the stock (a fact not previously developed), as there are outstanding $15,000,000 of these bonds and $24,000,000 of stock which Vanderbilt does not control. Preparations are being made by the bondholders to nominate and elect at the next annual meeting of the Board of Directors representing interests adverse to Vanderbilt's.

A Young Hero.

WINSTON, N. C., Oct. 1.—Willie Pimnick, a white boy twelve years old, broke into a house at this place, from which smoke was issuing, and rescued two colored children who were locked up in a room on the second story. Many of the colored children in the South lose their lives by the habit of parents, when going out, of locking the little ones up.

A Chinaman's Imposing Funeral.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—Wong Chong, a Chinaman who came to this city from New York about two months ago and who died in the Philadelphia Hospital on Wednesday, was buried yesterday with all the Chinese ceremonies except music, which was prohibited by the Mayor.

Forty Chinamen Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—An explosion at the California Powder Works at Stege's Station, the scene of several recent disasters, resulted in the death and horrible maiming of forty Chinamen out of a working force of forty-two. One white was reported injured.

A LAKE HORROR.

Terrific Explosion of the Boiler of the Propeller Colorado Near Buffalo, N. Y.

Three Persons Probably Killed and Several Others Scalded—More Deaths Anticipated.

Hurled to Death.

PATL EXPLOSION.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 1.—At eight o'clock Saturday night the starboard boiler of the Commercial Line propeller Colorado exploded about six miles above here. The boat left the Lackawanna dock a half hour before for Chicago. Captain C. M. Fellows was on the watch and was standing in front of the pilot-house. The force of the explosion expended itself upward, and all the upper works aft of the cabin were demolished. It is impossible to tell just how many lives the propeller is damaged. The tug Mary Griffin was in the lake within a quarter of a mile of the boat when the disaster occurred. She went to her and called another tug. The Griffin towed her into the Lackawanna Slip, and help was sent for. As soon as an examination could be made it was found that the explosion had resulted in the loss of several lives and terrible injury. A porter named Daniel Ellis could not be found, and was undoubtedly thrown off the boat. A deck hand named James Farrell is also missing. He shipped at Chicago on the Colorado's last trip down. Thomas Lovell, first engineer, and Alexander Rushlow, second engineer, who were in the engine-room, were badly hurt and scalded. Henry Allen, a deck-hand, was so terribly burned and injured that he died just after being removed from the boat. Patrick Hanson, Henry Acker, Fred Smith and Christian Rudolph, all deck-hands, were injured, some of them very severely. These deck-hands were on the upper deck at the time engaged in hauling up the fenders. W. H. Cabot, mate, who joined the steamer in Chicago, was just in front of the smoke stack, but luckily escaped with very slight injuries about the head. He did good service in removing the others from among the debris. Cabot and First Mate James Edgcomb, at supper only fifteen minutes before, heard the hissing of steam, and Cabot asked Edgcomb if he had ever been in a blow-up. Four doctors were soon on hand and rendered all assistance possible. All the injured were removed to the Marine Hospital. It is possible that some of them may die.

An Explanation.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having fully determined last spring to make a change in our business we advertised a closing out sale and the price at which we sold goods was proof of our sincerity. Certain unexpected occurrences being prevented for the present, the contemplated change, we shall continue our business as before until further notice. Inasmuch as we have always fulfilled our promises and announcements to the public, except in this instance, and we intend always to fulfill them, we make this explanation to assure the people that our notice of a change of business was no threadbare device to draw trade.

Respectfully,

"DOWN WITH THE KING."

King Alfonso Hooted and Hissed by the Canaille on His Arrival in Paris.

The Indignity Heaped Upon the Spanish Sovereign Condemned on All Sides.

President Grey Offers an Apology Which Will Be Made as Public as Were the Insults.

The Feeling in Spain—Rioting Begun at Canton—Session of the Irish National League.

Other Foreign Affairs.

"HANG THE UGLY KING."

PARIS, Oct. 1.—The scenes at the railway station Saturday on the occasion of the arrival of King Alfonso and his suite to the Spanish Embassy are described by eye-witnesses as very exciting. Upon alighting from the train Alfonso walked some distance through the lines of troops stationed at the depot without attracting special notice, before President Grey, who was in waiting, advanced to meet him. The meeting was very cordial and gave rise to a few feeble cheers. During the ride from the station to the Spanish Embassy Alfonso was hooted and jeered by the crowds in the streets and the windows of the houses. Some of the boldest of the rabble advanced as far as the lines of the troops would allow, shouting "Kill the Ugly King." The Spanish soldiers drew their swords and preceded the King's carriage. Alfonso was apparently unharmed and smiled pleasantly. The cortege reached the Spanish embassy without further adventure. Here the King alighted and remained a short time, after which he proceeded to the palace of the Elysées, on the call of President Grey. While returning to the embassy the insults were again renewed. Several gentlemen of the party were hustled and kicked about, and shouts and curses filled the air.

Upon the appearance of Alfonso at church Sunday he was hissed, booed and cursed with the same violence as on Saturday. A large crowd blocked the entrance to the church, and it was with great difficulty that the royal party were enabled to enter. Several stones were thrown, and troops were obliged to disperse the crowd to prevent the stoning of the church. President Grey called on the Spanish ambassador in the afternoon and apologized to King Alfonso for the hostile reception accorded him by the populace. The King responded that he would accept the apology if it were made as public as the insults had been. The President stated that the apology would be published in the official journal. The President expressed his regret that he was unable to suppress the demonstrations. President Grey then invited the King to dine with him at night, adding that the invitation was extended to Spain by true France. King Alfonso is very angry at his reception here, and has expressed to President Grey his intention of leaving Paris to-day. He would do so sooner but that he wishes to rest for a few hours before undertaking his journey.

EXCITEMENT AT MADRID.

MADRID, Oct. 1.—Alfonso's reception in Paris created a painful impression here, and much indignation is expressed in political circles. The conduct of the French Government will oblige Spain to enter into diplomatic correspondence with France. It is rumored the Government is disposed to advise the King to return to Spain forthwith if the demonstration is continued.

IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The Convention of the Irish National League of Great Britain began its session at Leeds. The sittings are held with closed doors. During the meeting the convention will be addressed by the following Members of Parliament: Charles Stewart Parnell, for Cork; Thomas Sexton, for Sligo; John E. Biggar, for Cavan; Thomas Power O'Connor, for Galway; and James O'Kelly, for Roscommon. One hundred delegates are present.

A heated debate took place on the demands of the delegates from London, that there should be a revision of the rules for the election of the Executive Committee. As a result the convention voted that the Executive Committee should consist of seven members, with Thomas Power O'Connor as President, Joseph J. Biggar as Vice-President, and James O'Kelly as Secretary, and James O'Kelly as Treasurer. The convention also voted that the Executive Committee should consist of seven members, with Thomas Power O'Connor as President, Joseph J. Biggar as Vice-President, and James O'Kelly as Secretary, and James O'Kelly as Treasurer.

WILL FRANCE WANT TOXICUM.

PARIS, Oct. 1.—According to the terms telegraphed Marquis Tseng from Peking, China claims both banks of the Red River, the French Government has declared it will not accept these terms, because to do so it would lose all the fruits of its expedition, obtaining neither the delta of the Red River, the rich mining districts of Tonkin, nor a monopoly of the trade with the southwest provinces of China.

MOVING BROWN AT CANTON.

HONG KONG, Oct. 1.—Dispatches from Canton report the occurrence of serious riots there. The houses of French residents and the warehouses of French merchants have been attacked by the mob.

EXPLOSION AND LOSS OF LIFE.

MADRID, Oct. 1.—A barrel of gun powder exploded in a wine shop in Puen, killing fifteen people and injuring six.

A Fatal Cattle Disease in Illinois.

MENDOTA, Ill., Oct. 1.—A cattle disease called murrain has broken out in this section. Many farmers have lost several fine cows. Dr. Silas Kreitzer says that this disease is one of the most malignant that can beset our cattle, and is infectious and epidemic. There are no symptoms until the animal is attacked; it then lies down and appears to be in great agony until death ensues. It is usually fatal within one to three hours. Nearly all the cases thus far have resulted fatally.

September Reduction of the National Debt.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—It is stated by the Treasurer of the United States that the reduction of the public debt for September will be about $15,000,000. No payments were made during the month on account of pensions.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Adjustment of Postmaster Salaries—Some Important Changes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The first adjustment of salaries of Presidential postmasters, to take effect to-day, as required by act of Congress of March 3, 1883, has been completed at the Post-Office Department, and postmasters have been notified. Salaries to the number of 2,170 were adjusted, involving an aggregate amount of $3,700,000. Twenty-five post-offices of the entire number were closed, and the four closed offices have been added to the Presidential list, making a total of 2,170 Presidential offices October 1, 1883, and an aggregate of salaries of $3,700,000. The list, as adjusted, includes post-offices in every State and Territory in the United States, with the exception of Alaska, and shows the country to be in a most prosperous condition. The following table shows the changes at some of the principal offices:

Exaggerated Reports of Hancock's Condition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—General Hancock, who sustained a severe injury to his right knee a few weeks ago by being thrown down by the hurrying of a small boat on which he and party went down the bay to witness some experiments in gunnery, is still confined to his bed. He passed a very restless and painful night, sleeping but little, and that only by snatches. A little easier, the pain from the injury having lessened considerably. The surgeon who is attending him says his leg has greatly improved since the accident, and that he needs only absolute rest and careful nursing to insure recovery. There were a great many callers at the General's residence at Governor's Island yesterday, but with the exception of the family a few of exaggerated reports published by some of the papers the General's friends have become very solicitous.

The Oil Industry.

OIL CITY, Pa., Oct. 1.—A summary of the Derrick's report of operations in the oil field for the month of September has just been given to the trade and read in the Oil City Exchange. It shows rigs up, 900; wells drilled, 310; total, 510; wells completed, 310; new production, 4,300 barrels. For the purpose of comparison the figures for August are also given: Rigs up, 307; wells drilled, 315; total, 622; wells completed, 4,367; dry holes, 58.

Counterfeit Coin-Makers Arrested.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 1.—Deputy United States Marshals Twiford, Turner and Vogel made a raid upon two "shanty" or "jug" boats, floating on Willow Run, near Covington, and arrested Thomas Mason, William McCready, Charles Pickering, Katie Kral and Bertram Betts, being charged with the use of counterfeit United States money.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 1.
LOCAL MATTERS.

Do at Home as the Romans Do!

The above adage, which implies that it is well to conform to the habits and customs of a locality when on a visit, is used here suggestively to the visitors who may attend the Fair of the Rock County Agricultural Society. They must not forget that this is the home of "Todd's Celebrated Ale."

An ale which has attained a reputation further and wider than any ale ever brewed in Wisconsin.

It is recommended by the most eminent of our physicians as the most nutritive beverage known.

In many instances it has restored the invalid to perfect health and vigor.

The proverbial beauty of the women of Janesville and the fine physique of many of the men, is much to be attributed to Todd's Ale and Porter.

Always ask for this article, and call at the Sample Room of the Brewery in the alleyway east side of Milwaukee Street Bridge to test the same.

Prof. A. B. Severance will open his dancing school at Lappin's hall, Friday, Oct. 5th. Children's class will be organized at 4:30 and adult class at 8:30 o'clock p. m.

Ladies' reticules, a very fine assortment at reasonable prices. Call and see them at Sutherland's.

Croft & Whiton's essence of Jamaica Ginger is the purest and best in the market. 25 and 40 cents a bottle.

The largest and finest assortment of hair goods ever brought to Janesville, can be seen at Mrs. William Sadtler's, opera house block.

John Monaghan has just received a large stock of fall boots and shoes; that will be sold at prices less than ever appeared in this city.

The places to buy ladies' kid and pigskin button boots cheap, at Hemming & Son's.

For SALE—The Norcross homestead. Terms reasonable, enquire of Campbell & Stevens.

The finest assortment of children's shoes in the city. H. HANNAH & SON'S.

Go to McKee & Bro. for your silk winter cloak.

The largest stock of fine and medium goods. H. HANNAH & SON'S.

A Chicago party would like to purchase an interest in a drugstore in Janesville. Address M. Gazette office, Janesville, Wis.

Croft & Whiton keep all the patent medicines.

For SALE—Extra inducements offered on the Raymond mill property. Enquire of Campbell & Stevens.

Two dozen more just opened of those Ottoman silk circulars for $20.00. McKee & Bro.

Office and fancy inkstands, at Sutherland's.

McRoy & Bro. have the stock of Dolmans, circulars and plush jackets for this fall.

The largest assortment of ladies' and gent's pocket books in the city, for sale cheap at Sutherland's bookstore.

Attention is called to our line of trimmed hats. N. Y. SAVING STORE.

For SALE—Residence of Captain H. A. Smith, on Jackson street, for sale cheap for cash. Enquire of Dimock & Hayner.

Remember that Archie Reid has the largest stock of dolmans, paletots, jackets, circulars and ulsters, in all kinds of material. The best and cheapest waterproofs, all wool Watertown flannels in all styles, 20 per cent less than you can buy the same goods elsewhere. Don't fail to see his sample lines of corsets, jewelry, linen, silk and cambric handkerchiefs, ties, ribbons, and all of which will be sold at positively wholesale prices. Prices on all staple dry goods always the lowest. Remember the store, Archie Reid, 21 Main street.

Cashmere Jersey gloves also musket-airs, Foster and undressed kid. N. Y. SAVING STORE.

Found—a large cat. For particulars enquire at Heimstreet's drugstore.

"The Westminster," the leading base burner of the world. Kimball & Lovell, sole agents, Janesville.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription, one dollar per bottle, at Stearns & Baker's.

Croft & Whiton have just received a new truss which is superior to any truss ever invented. People who have failed to find relief from other trusses will do well to try one.

Dr. Townsend's celebrated Remedy for Hay Fever, Asthma, and Catarrh, used and recommended by Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. Sold by Stearns & Baker.

All styles of chamber suits at Ashcraft's.

Men's and boys' fur and wool hats from 35 cents up, at Chicago store.

MEDICAL DISPENSARY—Dr. Fishblatt has taken a long leave from the residence of Mrs. Peter Myers, on East Milwaukee street, for his family, and will open a large dispensary in the city of Janesville next month, October, and make his future home here, and as soon as he can find a suitable place he will build. Due notice of his opening his office will appear in his column advertisement.

Drifts.

—Fair weather.

—Two cent postage now.

—Common council to-night.

—Make your entries for the county fair.

—Mr. C. F. Grant left to-day for Duluth, Minnesota, on a business trip.

—Captain J. S. M. Putnam, steward of the state insane hospital, spent Sunday in the city.

—Captain Edward Ruger, who has been east for the past two months, returned home yesterday.

—Mr. Al. Kavele went to Monroe, to-day, as short hand reporter for the Green county circuit court.

—Judge John R. Bennett, has gone to Monroe, where he will preside at the Green county circuit court.

—To-morrow, Tuesday, October 2d, will be the Jewish new year, but it will not be observed by the Israelites in this city.

—"Spanish Jim," the cow boy of the Rocky Mountains, will amuse the boys at the fair grounds this week, with his wild buffalo.

—On Wednesday evening, Oct. third, the Bower City Rifles will give one of their popular dances at the Rifles armory. Tickets 50 cents.

—Mr. E. A. Egery, of Racine, grand master workman, A. O. U. W. of Wisconsin, is in the city to-day, on business connected with that order.

—Mr. A. M. Valentine has sold his house, No. 18 Washington street, first ward, to Mr. J. C. Granger, the purchase price, we understand, was $1,500.

—There were 1025 books drawn from the Janesville Free Public Library during the month of September, against 1331 for the previous month of August.

—The Hon. James Sutherland returned home Saturday from Racine, where he attended the convention of Congregational churches. He also visited the exposition in Milwaukee.

—Dr. W. H. Judd has taken possession of his residence on North Bluff street, second ward, where he will hereafter reside. Mrs. Clara J. Sanborn, his sister, will also make her home with the doctor.

—Rev. C. E. Goldthorp, pastor of the First M. E. church, went to Milwaukee this afternoon to attend the Methodist conference in that city this week. Presiding Elder A. J. Mead will go to-morrow.

—Entries for the county fair can be made at the secretary's office at the Pemberton house until nine o'clock this evening. The books will then be taken to the fair ground, where all subsequent entries must be made.

—The farwell concert to Mrs. H. A. Smith, will be given at the Congregational church next Friday evening. An excellent programme will be given. We urge upon the people to give this matter thoughtful consideration, and fill the church.

—The prizes offered by the Rock County Agricultural society for the quilt pitching match are now on exhibition in the show windows of Messrs. F. C. Cook & Co., opposite the postoffice, and are very fine prizes. All who are interested in the game should call and look at them.

—W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., have accepted the invitation of the Rock county agricultural society, and will join the battalion of militia on Friday in doing escort duty. The members of the post have been ordered to meet at 1:30 p. m. on Friday, in full uniform, for the above purpose.

—Joseph McDonald and William Johnson were before the municipal court this afternoon, charged with breaking into a freight car and stealing fruit, when the trial was adjourned until two o'clock to-morrow afternoon. There are a dozen or more other boys who were engaged in the same business, who will be brought up as soon as arrested.

—Rev. F. C. Grunzmacher, pastor of the German M. E. church, of Ft. Atkinson, wishes to extend his sincere thanks to the trustees and members of the Court Street M. E. church for the use of their Sunday school room during the last conference year, which was offered to him without any charges for services in German. He preached his last sermon here yesterday. He goes to Aurora Ill., where he has accepted the pastorate of the German M. E. congregation. Rev. W. C. Schmitzler will be his successor.

—Three of Mr. C. B. Conrad's new houses on Milton avenue have been completed, and the fourth one is now ready for the painters. These new residences make a very substantial improvement to that part of the city. The north house will be occupied by Mr. Evans and family, formerly of La Porte, Indiana. The next one is now occupied by Mr. T. J. Salsman and family, and the third one will be occupied by Mr. B. B. McKee and family, this week. The fourth residence, or one at the south, is not yet occupied, but we understand that it has been engaged.

The Weather.

REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS. At seven o'clock on Sunday morning the thermometer registered 36 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 65 degrees above zero. Clear with a north wind. At seven o'clock this morning the register was 29 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with a west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 58 degrees above zero. Partly cloudy with westerly wind.

Many persons who seemingly have consumption have perfectly sound lungs, and their distress originates solely from disordered kidneys and liver. Now there are thousands of remedies that will relieve kidney and liver diseases, but only one that can be depended upon for effecting a permanent cure, and that is Brown's Iron Bitters. Its efficacy has been satisfactorily proven in thousands of instances after all other remedies failed.

Mr. Wm. Schutte, Kell, Wis., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters completely cured me of kidney complaint after physicians failed."

Dr. S. B. Myers, Shobogyan, Wis., says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters for general debility, loss of appetite and want of strength."

Macbeth.

A large and unusually intelligent audience assembled at the opera house on Saturday evening, to witness the presentation of the great tragedy of Macbeth by the Miln dramatic company. Those who witnessed the play of Hamlet on Friday evening, were anxious to see Mr. Miln's Macbeth, and there was perhaps a still greater anxiety to see how Miss Miln's Gonerwy would succeed in the very difficult character of Lady Macbeth.

We are compelled to say that the very favorable impression made by Mr. Miln in Hamlet was to a considerable extent dissipated by his rendering of Macbeth. The character was over-done to such an extent that at times it nearly degenerated into a rant. Unimportant passages which should have been given in a conversational tone, were rendered with all the power of voice and force of gesticulation required in the most tragic scenes, while the almost constant stamping of the foot to emphasize each particular word in a sentence—a stage trick only rarely admissible—became very annoying to the audience. Some of the heavier scenes where power and strength are required, were well performed, and called forth hearty applause from the audience; while in others so much strength was expended on the less important passages that there was nothing left for the climax. Especially was this the case in the banquet scene on the last appearance of the ghost of Banquo.

With an excellent voice, a fine physique and undoubtedly a high appreciation of the character of Macbeth, Mr. Miln will correct the faults which are due perhaps to an excess of zeal and do himself greater justice in the character.

Miss Gonerwy's rendering of Lady Macbeth has demonstrated the fact that experience only is necessary for her to achieve very flattering success in her chosen profession. Her first entrance produced a very favorable impression, and during the reading of the letter from her husband and in the remarkable soliloquy which follows, her attitude, accent of voice and play of features, were excellent, and she gave the impression of having a reserve power equal to any situation in the play.

The rendering of this, and of the sleep walking scene, may fairly take rank with the best. The latter scene was marred, however, by having too much light on the stage, and by the too loud talking and noisy moving about of the doctor and waiting woman.

Miss Gonerwy shows a fine appreciation of the character of Lady Macbeth, and the result of careful, pains-taking study. But she also shows a lack of experience in stage business and in acting with others. This was shown in the scene before the murder, and in the banquet scene. In these scenes she should be supreme, but she was evidently hindered, and to some extent, overpowered by Mr. Miln's heavy acting. Time and experience will correct these difficulties and we predict that Miss Gonerwy's Lady Macbeth will reach a high standard.

Mr. Borroughs well sustained the character of Macduff. He was especially good at the closing of the fourth act, where he received enthusiastic and well merited applause.

Mr. Kendall was very happy in his representation of the intoxicated porter, and the support generally was good.

The County Fair.

Everything is moving along nicely for a successful exhibition of the Rock county fair, which will commence here on to-morrow, closing on Friday. The entries are coming in in good numbers, Mr. J. W. Bates, who has charge of the books, informed us that at three o'clock this afternoon entry No. 1298 had been made in the general department, and No. 129 in the domestic department, which is more than double the number made at the same time last year.

The fair grounds are now in order for the reception of stock and articles for exhibition, and many exhibitors are already on the grounds with their articles. To-morrow will be a busy day at the fair grounds, receiving and arranging the exhibits, and should the weather continue pleasant, there will no doubt be a large crowd of visitors on Wednesday. Rowley Bros. and C. F. Glass, artists; F. C. Cook & Co., jewelers; Prentice & Evenson, druggists; McCullagh & Galbraith, and Mrs. Henry Woodstock, milliners, follow the lead of R. W. King, and propose making a fine display of their articles on the fair grounds.

FAIR NOTES.

Specials of Galbraith Bros. for the Rock county fair, are on exhibition at the store of James A. Webb & Co.

Merchants are especially requested to make an exhibit at the Rock county fair. No charge made for space or entry. Some of the best houses are already making fine displays.

No gates charged on Tuesday at the fair grounds. All goods arranged, and all entries close Wednesday noon.

The secretary's office will be open on the fair grounds Tuesday morning. All entries will be made there except in fine arts and domestic, which will be made in fine art hall.

Parties in the city wishing to exhibit at the fair, and having their entries made, can leave their names at the store of the secretary, and the articles will be called for and taken to the grounds on Tuesday, and properly cared for.

A Pleasant Surprise.

On Saturday evening about twenty-five friends of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Fatzinger planned and carried out a successful surprise on them, at their home on North Bluff street. They had been visiting friends in Hanover during the afternoon, and on their return home, at about 6:30 o'clock, everything looked as usual, and not the least suspicion of a surprise had entered their minds. To make the surprise more complete, the company put down the curtains to exclude the light. When they entered the house they were struck with wonder and amazement when they discovered it was taken possession of by their friends, and the tables in the large dining room laden with delicacies. They were informed by Mr. C. J. Blake that they had come to celebrate the 48th anniversary of Mr. Fatzinger's birth, and all were then invited to partake of the sumptuous repast prepared for them. After satisfying their appetites they repaired to the parlors and enjoyed themselves in social intercourse until late in the evening. Before the company dispersed, Mr. S. Stone, in behalf of the visitors, presented Mr. Fatzinger with an easy chair, and all retired to their respective homes satisfied with the surprise, and wishing that Mr. Fatzinger would live to celebrate many such happy occasions.

Miss Ella Wheeler.

Miss Ella Wheeler, Wisconsin's gifted poetess, and whose fame reaches beyond the Atlantic, spent Saturday night in this city, a guest of Miss Ella Jackson. Yesterday the two went to Johnston to visit relatives of Miss Wheeler's. During her brief stay in this city, Miss Wheeler made several pleasant calls and also visited the public library rooms. By the way, she directed our attention to the following, from the St. James' Gazette, London, which is good enough to publish in the Janesville Gazette:

It is credibly reported that in the unromantic town of Milwaukee, in Wisconsin, a new school of poets has been founded, composed exclusively of young women. In an era when the emancipated woman is allowed to vote at the polling-booths, and is beginning to smoke her brother's cigars, it is, perhaps, not altogether unnatural that she should also aspire to imitate the voluminous verse-writing that has hitherto been the monopoly of the other sex.

However it may be accounted for, the fact is on record that a certain Miss Ella Wheeler, who aspires to be the Sappho of the West, has written certain "Poems of Passion," of which it is sufficient to say that no one who forms an estimate of the writer from her verses would imagine that she is, as her neighbors say, "personally most respectable." Perhaps we should be accused of laboring under the reactionary prejudice of the Old World if we were to remark that it would not be a world-wide calamity if the Sappho of the West were to find in Lake Michigan that effective remedy for her wishes which the Arabian poet found in the Jannet.

Miss Wheeler's "Poems of Passion" have met with a large sale, and still the demand is increasing. She tells us that if it is possible, she will write three or four more poems for the next edition than can be found in the present one! All her books of poems—four in number—sell well, and some of them have been republished in England.

Accidental Death of a Former Resident of Janesville.

Mr. Richard Valentine returned home on Saturday evening from a six weeks hunting trip to Parker's Prairie, about one hundred miles northwest of St. Paul, in Otter Tail county. While at Parker's Prairie, the hunting party, consisting of half a dozen gentlemen, made the acquaintance of an old farmer named Robert Barker, who informed Mr. Valentine that thirty years ago he resided in Janesville, and was well acquainted with many of the residents at that time, especially with Mr. George Field. Mr. Barker possessed a very fine hunting dog which he desired to dispose of, and took his dog into the camp of the hunters for the purpose of letting them see what he could do. Two of the party, Messrs. Norris and Dow, with the old gentleman and his dog, went out to shoot chickens; after traveling for an hour, the old gentleman became tired, and stopped to rest, while the other two went on. Shortly they came into a thick undergrowth of poplar, and fell upon a flock of chickens which they commenced to shoot. One of the chickens started to fly, when both parties fired, bringing the chicken down, and when they went to pick it up, found the old man dead, with upwards of sixty shot in his face and chest. How he could have reached the position, which was in advance of where they left him, could not be explained. He leaves five sons and several daughters, all married, and living within three miles of the vicinity where the accident happened. Mr. Valentine left the camp on the same afternoon, and did not learn further particulars. He did not last time be conversed with Mr. Barker, the unfortunate victim of this accident, he wished to be remembered to his old friends in Janesville.

Oak Hill Cemetery.

The following is a list of the interments in Oak Hill cemetery for the month of September; of the eight burials only six were residents of the city:—

September 3d—Frank E. Robinson, aged 21 years, town of Janesville.

September 3d—Infant son of L. Kohler, Janesville.

September 10th—Mrs. Thomas Byrne, aged 62 years, Janesville.

September 11th—Mrs. Emily Patterson, aged 60 years, town of Rock.

September 14th—Robert McCubbin, aged 72 years, Janesville.

September 15th—Laura Schrecker, aged 9 years, Janesville.

September 17th—Infant son of John Dickson, Janesville.

September 28th—Miss Lucy Ashley, aged 20 years, Janesville.

The trustees of the cemetery association held their regular monthly meeting at the office of Dr. L. J. Barrows, the secretary, and accepted the resignation of Mr. John J. R. Pease, as president of the board, which had been pending for some time. The board thereupon unanimously elected Mr. John L. Carle as president. Mr. Carle accepted the office, and gave notice that he could be found at the grocery store of his son, W. F. Carle, on West Milwaukee street, ready to attend to any matters pertaining to his office.

Mr. Pease's business engagements now occupy his whole time and attention, compelling him to resign the presidency, an office which he has held for the past eight years. The board was very reluctant in accepting his resignation of an office he has so faithfully and willingly filled for so long a time.

Postoffice Business.

The money order department of the Janesville postoffice transacted the following business during the past week:

41 orders paid.....$1,915.32

The Prize of Beauty.

would never have been awarded to Venus if her teeth had been yellow. Frail mortal, unlike the deities of fable, have perishable teeth, but these they may retain unimpaired to an advanced age, if they will use Socrator's, which keeps the teeth free from impurities which destroy them, and renders them objects of admiration. It is pure, refreshing, leaves an agreeable flavor in the mouth, and sweetens the breath.

The Rev. Mr. Curtis.

The Rev. Olin A. Curtis, who has been pastor of Court street church for the past three years, went to Milwaukee to-day to attend the annual Wisconsin conference. During his pastorate he has preached 200 sermons, about one half of which were delivered from manuscript the other half being of a spontaneous character, exceedingly practical, and generally were preached on Sunday evenings. All his sermons, whether written or unwritten, were thoroughly studied, and not from the beginning to the end of his ministry, here, did he give the people a poor sermon.

The more he preached the more he displayed his great ability as a scholar, a thinker and a preacher. During the three years he made 1,700 pastoral calls, besides doing much other work in the line of his duty. The benevolent collections largely increased under his pastorate over those of former years.

It is not yet known, of course, what charge will be given Mr. Curtis next year. He is worthy the highest place in the gift of the conference, but his almost matchless modesty will keep him from taking the best though it were offered him. Wherever he may go, he and his wife will carry with them the profound respect and the kindest wishes of a wide circle of friends, not in Court street church alone, but of other denominations in this city.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

Breaking Into Cars.

Yesterday afternoon between four and five o'clock, a pack of twenty-five or thirty boys broke open a freight car on the track of the Chicago and Northwestern railway in this city, and took therefrom several baskets of peaches, some sugar and cranberries. The boys were all the way from ten to sixteen years of age. The marshal was informed of the affair, and soon had three of the leaders of the gang safely lodged in the county jail. He is acquainted with all the parties, and he will no doubt have them behind the bars in short order.

CHAMON SKINS.

Calamity Jane.

This combination will occupy Lappin's music hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week. The Muscatine Iowa, Tribune, of September 25th, speaks of their appearance in that city:—

The theater-going people were out in very fair numbers at the opera house, last evening. The beautiful border drama Calamity Jane, had been long talked of, consequently every one present was interested in its production. The play is deserving of crowded houses wherever produced, and had the evening been more favorable the opera house would have been filled to its utmost capacity. The troupe is deserving of credit for their carrying out the respective parts, as it has only been organized for five weeks. Miss Cora VanTassel, as "Calamity Jane," must be acknowledged as one of promising future, as she acted her part in an excellent manner. Ross W. Parsell, as "Dakota Dick," Johnny Cochran, as "Peter Grossheimer," and Edwin Young, as "Mark Antony Polonius," a Shakespearean disciple, were also very efficient in rendering their parts with ease. The play consisted of the usual western or frontier life, and each of the troupe are worthy of notice aside from what we have already said of a portion.

Candles and Footlights.

There was a small audience at the opera house yesterday afternoon to hear Mr. George C. Miln lecture on "Candles and Footlights." The lecture was a very interesting one, and was listened to with unabated attention from the beginning to the close. Mr. Miln is a fluent speaker, polished and eloquent, and appears to a far better advantage on the rostrum than he does on the stage. Our space forbids us giving anything more than the following brief outline of the address:

The church and the theater are twin children of the religious impulse. Their childhood was spent in loving fellowship. In all nations their earliest forms were simultaneously developed. The songs and dances of early religious festivals gradually broke away from the custody of the priests, and were conducted by a distinct class of professional actors. In all countries the impulse which has led men into the institution of religious ceremonies is found to be also the real source of the dramatic art.

The stage has held the "mirror up to nature, that virtue might see her own image, and the vice y age and body of the time his form and pressure."

The church, employing this positive method, has been impatient of the negative process adopted by the stage. To an enthusiast, moderation is always the most damnable of sins.

The church is an institution which aims to improve society. The stage aims to amuse, and to instruct. Both should be classed among the educative and ennobling forces of our modern life. Amusement is as necessary as religion. It is the safety-valve of the nineteenth century. Shut up the theater and you must build a madhouse in its place. The lightsome mirth of the mimic stage satisfies and recuperates the tired nerves of overdriven men, as no sermon, no philosophy could revive them. Moreover the stage is a distinctly ethical institution. It inspires with admiration for the heroic, and detestation for the vicious and evil. The lecturer rejoiced in the weakening of the prejudice against the stage. He played Hamlet last season to an audience in which were no fewer than nine ministers, all of whom had paid for their seats!

The heretic he wore as Cardinal Richelieu was taken from the head of a truly Catholic priest and placed in his hand to be used for that purpose. Galileo was right and the world does move.

In the course of his remarks he paid a generous tribute to Modjeska, Mary Anderson, John McCullough, and Thomas W. Keene.
